Claim Objections

1. Claim 3 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 3 depends upon to claims. Reciting claim 1 is redundant because claim 2 includes the limitations of claim 1. Rewriting the claim deleting claim 1 will overcome this objection.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a or e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Cutler et al (6,770,392).

Cutler et al teach a sintered composite including $Ce_{1-x-x'}Ln_xLn_{x'}O_{2-z}$ where Ln is selected from Sm, Gd and x is .05-.25, see column 5, lines 25-35. Also see examples

1, 3-5 which have greater than 99% density. The sintering temperature is between 1400-1600°C. The instant claims are not considered to exclude the titanium component in view of the comprising terminology.

In product-by-process claims, “once a product appearing to be substantially identical is found and a 35 U.S.C. 102/103 rejection [is] made, the burden shifts to the applicant to show an unobvious difference.” MPEP 2113. This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102/103 is proper because the “patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production.” In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985).

5. Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Japanese document 11-273451, translation included.

The Japanese document teaches including CeO₂ and one of Sm₂O₃ and Gd₂O₃, see Table on page 6 and page 7 of the translation. Examples 1, and comparison 2,5 fall within the instant claims.

In product-by-process claims, “once a product appearing to be substantially identical is found and a 35 U.S.C. 102/103 rejection [is] made, the burden shifts to the applicant to show an unobvious difference.” MPEP 2113. 6. Claims 1-7 are allowed.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kleinlogel et al (6,709,628) is cited as prior art of interest however the taught grain size is limited to .5 microns. Takamura et al (2005/0142053; Taniguchi (6,528,195) and Mori (5,665,482) fail to teach the claimed density and grain size. The prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest the claims acicular particle, secondary particles made therefrom and method of manufacture. Overs; Rahaman et al; Van Herle et al and Inaba et al are cited as representing the general state of the art.
